

LUNA & The Gents are a virtual music project from Switzerland that combines retro charm with a fresh, modern sound. The project was created by Leendert van Stipriaan, who reinterprets songs from his earlier repertoire together with singer Evelyne "LUNA" Péquignot. The result is authentic swingin' vintage pop-classic songwriting, catchy melodies, and real instruments. No digital gimmicks, no flood of samples - just genuine musical craftsmanship and emotional depth. Their songs sound like they're from decades past - yet still feel very much of today.

Leendert van Stipriaan is a musician, songwriter, and producer. Raised in East Frisia, he has lived in the Basel region since his youth. He gained his first formative experiences with the Swiss pop-folk band Day of Leisure before devoting himself more to his own projects and studio work. Under the stage name STIP, he writes and produces songs that blend pop, folk, and rock, characterized by classic songwriting, strong melodies, and a clear personal style. For many years, he worked closely with Andi Gisler on projects including STIP, English Garden, and Oisín, and was active as a producer, arranger, and studio musician for various artists.

Evelyne Péquignot is the frontwoman of the renowned band Little Chevy, with whom she stylistically moves between Americana, country, folk, and roots music. Her warm, expressive voice and her keen sense of storytelling significantly shape the band's authentic, song-oriented sound.

LUNA & The Gents create a sound that is both nostalgic and timeless - rooted in the warmth of bygone eras and full of the energy of the present. Although LUNA & The Gents do not play live concerts, their world lives on in digital stages: with style, nostalgia, and a touch of whimsy. LUNA & The Gents invite you into a world where groove meets elegance and vintage meets the present.

Retro in sound. Modern in appearance. Virtual in form.
