

New album: «SECOND LIFE (PART I)»

With their first EP, «SECOND LIFE (PART I)», LUNA & The Gents kick off the musical year 2026 with a charming mix of vintage feel, playful energy, and timeless pop appeal. The Basel-based band presents five previously released singles that have shaped their characteristic style of Swingin' Vintage Pop - as well as a special highlight, a long version of their chanson «Je Ne Peux Pas T'Oublier».

Each song on the EP tells its own little story, striking a balance between charm, humor, and emotional depth. From cheerful, danceable grooves to more intimate moments, «Second Life (Part I)» feels like a short cinematic journey through a retro-inspired world.

What makes this release special is that each track on the EP has its own official music video, creating a cohesive visual series that extends the storytelling beyond the music.

Luna & The Gents appeal to listeners who like vintage-inspired pop with character, authenticity, and a strong visual identity - fans of retro flair with a modern twist.

«SECOND LIFE (PART I)» will be released on January 23, 2026, both digitally on all major streaming platforms and as a physical CD for collectors and fans of the analog music experience.

LUNA & The Gents is a virtual music project that presents its swinging vintage pop exclusively online. All original compositions were recorded with real instruments and classic studio technology – for a genuine, timeless sound. Music that sounds like yesterday but feels like today.

Retro in sound. Modern in appearance. Virtual in form.
